

Five Towns Recreational Facility

Client/Owner: Nassau County Dept. of Public Works

Project Location: Inwood, NY

GPI performed final design for the Five Towns Community Center Recreational Facility. Project involved developing and studying three alternative layouts for recreational facilities on 2.1 acres of undeveloped land. Work included design of soccer and softball/little league fields, tennis courts, park benches and extensive site landscaping. A key element necessitated by the strict grading requirement dictated by the soccer field and tennis court was a two tier retaining wall system. This wall ranged from one-and-a-half ft to six ft in height with a river stone imprint on the exposed street side surface. This project required an extensive in-ground irrigation system.
